

Ross Noble to headline Shark Trust's flagship event: For the Love of Sharks

The Shark Trust is delighted to announce that For the Love of Sharks will be back in London later this year.

Those attending will join a host of engaging, shark-loving, speakers including Ross Noble, Tom "The Blowfish" Hird and the Shark Trust team for an evening celebrating shark conservation at the Royal Geographical Society in London this November.

Date: Friday 27th November 2026

Time: 6-9:30pm (doors open at 5pm)

Location: Royal Geographical Society, London

Tickets: <https://www.sharktrust.org/Event/flos26>

The event will be a celebration of all things shark. Those lucky enough to get hold of tickets will hear from guest speakers with a passion for sharks. And this year's event is going to have some incredible tales from some of the most popular shark TV programmes you have seen on your screens recently.

Sharks on Our Screens

The *line-up includes:

Ross Noble: Award-winning stand-up comedian and actor.

Ross recently took part in ITV's Shark! Celebrity Infested Waters. He will bring his unique perspective to his time spent learning to dive and diving with sharks in The Bahamas for this TV series.

Ross said: "I had never dived before filming Shark! Celebrity Infested Waters. Learning to dive and going diving with sharks in The Bahamas was genuinely life changing. It opened my eyes to the underwater world, and how amazing sharks are. I'm delighted to be supporting the Shark Trust and can't wait to share my experience with the For the Love of Sharks audience in November!"

Tom "The Blowfish" Hird: The world's only Heavy Metal Marine Biologist!

Tom is the host of Netflix's All The Sharks. Fish is a long-standing Shark Trust member, supporter and Ambassador. At heart, Fish is happiest in our own British seas, supporting all sea life from sharks to sponges and spreading the word about the wonders of the ocean.

If you have not seen either ITV's Shark! Celebrity Infested Waters or Netflix's All the Sharks, you have plenty of time to catch up on all the episodes before the event.

In addition to the Sharks on Our Screens panel, the evening will include:

The winners of Shark Photographer of the Year 2026 will be announced live on the night. So, the audience will be the first to find out who won and see the stunning images on the big screen.

Shark conservation in 2026. Find out what has been happening and meet the Shark Trust team. Chat to some of the Shark Trust Brand Partners and even fit in some shark-themed shopping.

For the Love of Sharks is an evening with something for everyone who is interested and fascinated by sharks. Join the Shark Trust, their patrons, trustees and staff, along with a host of supporters for this celebration of shark conservation.

For more information or to buy a ticket: sharktrust.org/flos26 *lineup subject to change if unforeseen circumstances arise. More speakers to be announced soon.

-----ENDS-----

For more information about the work of the Shark Trust visit their website:
www.sharktrust.org

Press contact: Caroline Robertson-Brown, Marketing Coordinator, caroline@sharktrust.org

Notes to Editors

Shark Trust: The Shark Trust is a UK-based charity that works tirelessly to safeguard the future of sharks, and their close cousins, the skates and rays, around the world. They have a vision: A future where sharks thrive within a globally healthy marine ecosystem. Whilst the team, based in Plymouth, is relatively small, its successes have been considerable. This is partly due to the collaborative philosophy of the charity, working with a global network of scientists, policymakers, conservation professionals, businesses, and supporters, to further shark conservation. Established in 1997 to provide a voice for UK sharks, the Shark Trust has an ever-growing number of passionate supporters. And together they're creating positive change for sharks around the world.